

The Dakota capital locaters will likely turn their trust into a paying business.

After lying at the point of death for nearly a month, with all hopes of recovery gone, the condition of Senator Anthony now seems to be encouraging.

Indiana had a tornado on Tuesday which killed five persons. Twelve other persons were injured. One child was blown heavenward, and nothing has been heard of it since.

There does not appear to be much hope that the weather will improve. On every hand there are indications that there will be a stationary or lower temperature with numerous local rains.

Congressman Tom Orelhite, of Texas, goes to Europe this week. He has beaten the United States in lying, and now he proposes to challenge Europe. He will very likely win.

Sonator Logan has a bonanza in a cat-tle ranch near Albuquerque, New Mexico. It embraces 80,000 acres and is stocked with nine thousand head of cattle, which he intends to increase 20,000.

Carter Harrison seems to be a "thorn in the flesh" to the democratic free traders. What he said at the Incoquo club has given the democrats more trouble than they were prepared to meet. The truth that Harrison spoke that night has given the leaders of the party the blues.

The Ashland counterfeiters, Craig and Marcott, pleaded guilty before the United States district court at Madison, on Tuesday. The former was sentenced to state prison for a term of one year and was fined one dollar, while the latter received a sentence of nine months in the penitentiary and was fined one dollar.

Judge Mallory seems determined to get even with Kate Kane, the unruly lawyer, of Milwaukee. Proceedings have been commenced for her disbarment, and when her attorney appeared before the municipal to make a motion to have the case continued on account of her indisposition, the judge said: "It is a matter the counsel has nothing to do with, as the offense was committed in the presence of the court, and should be disposed of without the interference of counsel. I was surprised to see her put in an appearance here. I understood that she had been advised by her counsel to keep away from this court. I do not propose to keep an armed guard here to protect my person when I am attending court business. If she appears here again I will arraign her and summarily dispose of the matter."

From present indications, the State Journal is nearly correct when it makes the statement that Proctor Knott's satirical speech which has made for him all the reputation he has as a public man, though it was intended for a colossal joke, seems likely to become a real prophecy. "Not only is the northern Pacific railroad, the object of his sarcasm, turning out to be a grand success, but 'the zenith city of the unsalted seas,' Duluth, bids fair to come somewhere within the range of his feigned ideal. It has continued to exist and to thrive in spite of his withering witticisms; and now a report is current strongly pointing to the existence within its very corporate limits of extensive deposits of gold and silver and lead ore. If this report should prove true, and Duluth should become what such rich deposits might make it, it would certainly be a very curious and wonderful coincidence."

The fact that Mrs. Burke, of New Orleans, has been appointed superintendent of the main public square of that city, has set the authorities and newspapers of other cities to seriously thinking, and now there is a widespread demand that women should be appointed to superintend public parks. It is the experience of many cities that men do not make watchful and competent superintendents of public squares, and they are taking steps to secure a change, and probably in the course of the season many women will reap the success of Mrs. Burke. Women want a chance, and they will do a thousand things just as well, and in a majority of cases, better than men, because they would put more heart in the business. When women are acknowledged as being capable of doing something else beside sewing, setting at the piano, playing croquet, and raising children, then we may conclude that the better taste of intelligence prevails, and that the world is improving in its estimate of the worth of women.

The Marquis of Lorne, will vacate the office of governor-general of Canada, in October. His term of office will not expire till October, 1884, but he has been on this side the Atlantic as long as he cares to remain, and is anxious to return to England. He will be made a peer of the realm, the only promotion possible for him, which will entitle him to a seat in the House of Lords. Lord Lorne has been a failure as governor-general of Canada. He has no executive ability, neither has he the ambition to make a statesman of himself. During most of the time since his appointment to the position, he has been in Canada very little. He has done a good deal of running around, allowing the governmental affairs of Canada to manage themselves, and in this way has not made himself very popular. Of course he has learned a good deal about the United States which will serve him well in the House of Lords, and he has been paid fifty thousand a year while on his pleasure trips. The Princess has done so much traveling about, and is so tired, that she is to retire to the German mineral springs to get cured.

RIOT AND RIFLE.

Further Particulars of the Terrible Affair at Belleville, Ill.

Intense Excitement Among the Miners.—The Soldiers Condemned.

Statements as to Who Fired First—Measures Looking to a Compromise of the Trouble.

BELEVILLE, Ill., May 30.—The tragic occurrence of Monday was supplemented by a night of excitement, and great uneasiness prevailed. The strikers, after being driven from Belleville by the soldiers, came to the city and assembled in the public square, where they held a mass-meeting. Speeches were made by several of their number. The strikers, in firing upon them, were strongly condemned by the speakers. They also called upon prominent men to address the meeting, and several responded. Capt. R. A. Halbert and Mr. E. L. Thomas, well-known lawyers, both addressed the assembly, and were both in position to see the prisoners were still at the mine under guard. The meeting was kept up until midnight. A walk through the crowd developed the fact that there was a very bitter feeling against the soldiers and Mr. Heinicke, the proprietor of the mine, and several threats were made against both the person and the property of the soldiers.

Yesterday morning, a square at an early hour, and all day long they stood around in crowds discussing the situation and the events of the day before. The prisoners had not yet been brought in, and this seemed to inflame them to a high degree. They sought the sheriff and told him if the men were not brought in they would be over them in a body and take them away from the soldiers. The sheriff said he had already given orders for the prisoners to be brought in, and assured them they would come on the next morning. At five o'clock they arrived under guard of twenty-five of the militia, but these were not allowed by the officials to go up into the city, fears being entertained that a sight of the soldiers would precipitate a conflict. They were put into omnibuses and driven to Square McArthur's office. R. W. D. Holder, state's attorney, was there prepared to prosecute, but after consulting with R. A. Halbert, he volunteered, he consented to the release of the men on their own recognizance. The names of the prisoners are as follows: Ed Curtis, David Lewis, Charles Pennington, William Ackerbooke, Barker Watton, Elmer Lawton, Garvidos, Martin Wilson, Elmer Watton, Louis Stapp, John Schuchel, Richard Moore, Fred Greer, West Belleville, D. Morgan, Barker Station, P. Pockar, Charles Sour, James Cookle, and Hugh Forsyth, West Belleville; Fritz Uter, Thomas Davis, and John Sauray, Wilson; Grove H. Kof, Barker Station; Gibson Staley, West Belleville. Governor Bader impaneled a jury, with Henry Guenzl as foreman, and the inquest on Anderson is being held. The jury is one of more ordinary intelligence, and the examination will take a wide range. When the prisoners were released, the immense crowd that had gathered put the men on their shoulders and paraded through the city square. Speeches were made by Ed Thomas and R. A. Halbert, in which they were advised to keep from congregating in crowds. There are alleged eye-witnesses who insist that Col. Burdick fired the first shot into the crowd, and that it was taken as a signal by the men to fire. The militia are said to have acted hastily and without discipline, and to have continued the chase and kept up the firing much longer than was necessary. Deputy Sheriff Anthony, of Belleville, denies the report that as Col. Burdick was alighting several of the strikers commenced making insulting remarks and threatening the soldiers, besides making violent demonstrations. Anthony ordered them to be quiet under penalty of the law, and a striker presented a pistol and fired it between Anthony and Ross, and simultaneously there were several pistol-shots fired by the strikers at the soldiers who were alighting from the cars, and also into the crowd, several of them narrowly escaping being hit. The strikers were retreating from the plain over to the hills, and turning and firing as they went, and the soldiers started instinctively to pursue them, and some one (for the accounts are conflicting) gave the order to fire, and the soldiers poured volley after volley from the flying crowd, but it is said that most of the shots were intentionally aimed high. In the midst of the engagement a command to "stop firing" was heard, and the shooting ceased, but the pursuit was continued until some twenty-six prisoners were taken. Lying on his back was a man of about 25 years of age, well dressed, but the top of his head was almost completely shot off. The brain was scattered over the ground, and the face was frightfully disfigured. The man was forced out of his pockets and lying on the cheeks. The mouth was gaping wide, and the complexion was horribly livid. Death was instantaneous.

A delegation of miners from Stanton, Ill., all Knights of Labor, visited the city and before the members of that body a brief statement of the troubles in that city. When the miners are on a strike, they have usually been supported on credit at the stores, but in the present case the miners have been withheld, and the consequence is that most of the strikers and their families are reduced to almost the last stages of starvation. Most of the strikers were very willing to extend the usual credit, but the bosses forbade their doing so, threatening all sorts of dreadful things if they gave the strikers the least sympathy. Being reduced to the last extremity, the miners are forced to appeal to the generosity for relief. Steps will be taken to collect subscriptions in their behalf.

The latest advice from the mining districts are that the miners in the Marquette district are working all right. The Abbey mines at Collinsville and all the Vandalia mines are holding coal to-day. The backbone of the strike may now be completely broken. The board of trade, of St. Louis last night at the request of the miners, submitted and adopted a proposition looking to the solution of the mining difficulties.

THE IRON-WORKERS. PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 30.—A protracted meeting of the Iron Workers' association of Iron Manufacturers of the West, which was organized a year ago, was held in this city yesterday. No previous announcement was made of the meeting, and every effort was made to get going on the public knowledge of what was going on, but every movement supposed to have a bearing on the wages question was watched so closely that before the meeting was in session an hour it was generally known on the street that the mill-owners were engaged in a discussion of the all-absorbing topic. During the first hour the manufacturers sat with closed doors, and no conjectures concerning their probable action were made. Many visitors confidently asserted that the result of the meeting would be a notice that no reduction in wages would be insisted upon. Other less sanguine predicted that the manufacturers would reaffirm their previous action, or at best would only propose a compromise. When the meeting adjourned it was stated that a compromise or withdrawal of the proposition to reduce wages had not been suggested, but after a full discussion resolutions had been unanimously adopted reaffirming the proposition to reduce wages 10 per cent, and providing for the arrangement whereby 2 cents instead of 2½ cents shall be the basis of scale. It was also stated that the executive committee had been empowered to act on any propositions for a settlement which the Amalgamated association might make. This action of the manufacturers' association ends all hope of an amicable settlement, and in a majority of mills of this section the fires which were allowed to go out last evening to permit the workmen to participate in the services of Decoration day will not be lighted again until after the Amalgamated association accepts the manufacturers' terms or the latter withdraw the proposition to reduce wages.

RAILWAY CASUALTIES. REED CITY, Mich., May 30.—John M. Runyan, of Grand Rapids, a brakeman on the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad, fell between the cars one mile north of this place while setting a brake, and was instantly killed. He was out in two, and horribly mangled. He leaves a wife and two children.

FREMONT, O., May 30.—Levi Hurst, of Green Creek township, while on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern track, was struck by an eastward-bound passenger train, scooped up on the cow-catcher, and taken on to Clyde. Both legs were broken and his head jammed. He was also injured internally. At the time of being struck he was taking a pull at a task.

DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS LOADED. PARSONS, Kan., May 30.—William Simpson, who was shot in the breast by Lee Cummings last Saturday evening, is improving some, and hopes are entertained of his recovery, although the bullet has not been extracted. The shooting, Simpson says, was purely accidental, as the pistol was an old one which he and Cummings had been snapping at each other, and that he had loaded it, intending to shoot Cummings. When he returned he lay down on a cot to await Cummings' return, and fell asleep. Cummings came in, picked up the pistol, and put it to Simpson's breast and snapped it, with the result heretofore mentioned.

ARTHUR'S PROSPECTS.

A Washington Knowing One Thinks the President Will Be the Republican Nominee for His Own Successor.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—"Is President Arthur a candidate for re-election?" an official who has means of knowing a good deal was asked this evening. "I certainly think he will be the nominee of the next Republican convention," was the answer. "I believe also that he would accept the nomination, and that he would be pleased to have it, but he is not working to secure a re-nomination. He has a theory that no one is ever so likely as a candidate who directly works for that honor. He is going ahead fearlessly in his conservative fashion, making as good an administration as he can. If the people approve what is done and desire to employ him a second time as president, he will be pleased. But he will not go one step out of his way to secure the favor of any faction. This, in my judgment, is true wisdom on his part. He is to-day very popular. He is now beginning to be understood by the people. He is gaining a strength that ought to sweep everything before it next convention day."

"Is it true that he is busy now in New York conciliating the warring factions in that state?" "I do not think he is taking any steps in that direction. It is not his way. He believes his general policy will bring to him the support of Republicans in New York. I believe if he were nominated state pride and admiration for his administration would overwhelm any half-breed opposition."

"Would Cookling oppose him?" "I do not think he would. If he did it would only help him, for any opposition, to be effective, must be founded upon good cause. Now I have always been a great friend and admirer of Cookling. I stood out for his nomination in the Cincinnati convention when the majority of my state delegation was for Blaine. I have always been a friend, yet I find his recent speech, as reported in New York, wholly unjustifiable, and I would be the very last man to defend it."

Illinois Legislative Doings. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 30.—The legislative committee to investigate the charge that the record in the house journal of the proceedings relative to the Harper high-license bill had been altered without authority, began its labors yesterday. The evidence went to prove that the change or corrections had been made by the house clerks at the suggestion of Mr. Harper, whose attention had been directed to the seeming errors, which the clerk of the house, Mr. Reeves, testified, were mainly clerical.

Miss Patton, enrolling and engrossing clerk, testified that under Harper's instructions the word "resulting" was erased and the word "arising" run in. The correction was made from a copy of the high license bill, pasted on a half-sheet of legal cap, which Harper, for identification, had marked "O. K.—W. H. H."

There has been considerable outside and inside canvassing going on among leading Republicans and Democrats as to whether they ought to enter into an agreement to take up the appropriation bill and a few others of importance to be decided upon, pass them, and postpone to the Harper high-license bill then go home. The Harper high-license bill seems to be more in the way. If it were not for the general assembly would be able to adjourn within a week.

The low-license people will seek to have the consideration of the bill deferred until after the meeting of the Iowa Democratic convention.

Within the last three days considerable opposition has sprung up to the railroad consolidation bill which passed last week. It was rushed through the house in a manner that invites criticism. The house met with less than sixty members, and read a lot of bills through to second and third readings. A roll call showed a quorum and the house adjourned till Thursday.

—Mr. M. A. Slocum was to start for Dakota a week ago last Tuesday morning, but in carrying a stove which was about the last article to be put into the car, he slipped and sprained one of his ankles besides breaking one of the bones of his leg just above the ankle joint. Dr. Slocum reduced the fracture and Mr. Slocum was so that he started last Friday morning being accompanied by W. E. Spang.

—The usual quiet of our town was somewhat disturbed by the law suit on Saturday last, which according to all the reports, was hotly contested on both sides. J. H. Page, Esq., and Elton T. D. Weeks, of Whitewater, were the attorneys for the prosecution and defense. The case was a criminal prosecution for assault and battery, the complainant being Mrs. John Kelley and the defendant James O'Neil Jr., both parties residing in Johnstown. It was told that the evidence for the prosecution was not entirely harmonious and after hearing the testimony on both sides Esquire Richmond discharged the prisoner.

—The wind mill which was unloaded at this station a few days ago, and which was presumed to be for the purpose of filling the large water tank to be built by the R. R. Co., has gone, not exactly the "way of all the earth," but to Iowa. It was sent to this place by mistake.

—We are informed that a gentleman of this village keeps twenty-two hens, for some reason or other they are under the doctor's care, from which he has got 23 eggs for two successive days.

—Among the latest improvements in town we notice that Mrs. Fred Gould is having her house newly painted and that Wm. Truman has a new sidewalk.

—If any one wants to know why there were no lions in the park last week it is because the stock which our nervous system received on receiving what the typos made us say in our last batch of items, was so great that we were all mixed and shaken up apparently.

There were three parties in town on last Saturday afternoon and evening and not much of a day for parties either. Dr. and Mrs. Stetson invited in twenty or more little folks and had a party. Mrs. Stetson's two children from Oxford, to celebrate the sixth birthday of their daughter Florence. It was lots of fun for Mr. and Mrs. Stetson to see the little ones enjoy themselves which they did to the fullest extent. In the evening some of the young people gathered at Mr. Patrick Higgins' on account of it being the twenty-first birthday of his son Manny, who is now a full fledged American citizen just in time to pay a poll tax this season and vote. A goodly number of both young and middle aged people congregated at Mr. R. Springsteen's and enjoyed themselves first rate.

—An honest man it is said is God's noblest work. We wish he had seen fit to give us a great many more of his best works.

—The railroad company has sent lumber here for a new platform at the depot. There are a great many of four people who have been wishing for a long time that they would make a different arrangement of things so that those who wish to take the cars might not have to make a pilgrimage across a side track to say nothing of going around, over or through a freight train in order to reach a passenger train.

—Mr. Severance, of the firm of Severance and Steele put up an appropriate head stone at the grave of the late Daniel Knowles in our cemetery one day last week.

—The temperance lecture by Judge Ray, of Michigan, on Monday evening was as good an effort as any we have heard in a long time. It was an able presentation of stern facts.

—The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul pay car distributed riches to the employees of the company at this station Monday afternoon.

—Martin F. Gould started for Chicago, Tuesday morning to take in the railroad exposition and other sights.

—Deputy Sheriff Holbrook and Fred Gould, made a business trip to Janesville on Tuesday last.

—R. A. Kenyon is working at his trade in Janesville.

—Mrs. Robert Bacon started last Tuesday evening for a visit with friends in Dakota.

—The Honest Barber Makes a Clean Shave—Next!!!

Henry M. Kissling, a barber, of No. 438 Dearborn street, Chicago, bought a fifth ticket for one dollar in the April 10th drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery, and wiped off the capital number of 62,887, and received $15,000 by the American Express shortly after as a reward for his foolhardiness in braving fortune. He is 31 years old; born in Weisdorf, Germany; has a wife and five children, and tells every one they had better send $10 to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., before June 12th (Tuesday), when $22,500 will be distributed in like manner, in sums from $150,000 down, in the Grand Semi-Annual (the 157th) Drawing. Next!

There will be the usual programme at the roller skating rink this evening.

Rev. G. W. Lawrence, who has been confined to his home the past week by a painful illness, is now able to be out again.

The fire department turn out in full form in the memorial procession to-day, and made a handsome appearance. All the companies were in uniform.

Mr. A. D. Sykes, now of Pewaukee, arrived in the city last evening, for the purpose of joining the Janesville Guards to-day, on the trip to Whitewater. Mr. Sykes seldom misses filling his place in this company when they turn out on such occasions.

Mr. Edgar Weaver, of Menasha, Wisconsin, and Mr. George L. Weaver, freight agent of the Minneapolis and St. Paul, brothers of Mrs. G. R. Thompson; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parker, of Milwaukee, brother-in-law and sister of Mr. Thompson, arrived in the city this morning, and were with Mr. Thompson at the time of his death.

To-morrow evening there will be a benefit exhibition at the roller skating rink for Mr. Maen, who has been the gentlemanly assistant manager of the rink. On that evening there will be exhibitions of roller skating by Mr. A. F. Smith, also bicycle riding, and an obstacle race. The programme will be a good one throughout, and a crowded house will doubtless witness the performance.

The store of Messrs. Scott & Co. West Milwaukee, was handsomely decorated to-day in commemoration of Memorial day. The store has been closed all day. In front of the door is placed a handsome monument, upon which is inscribed at the base "Gettysburg" "Will, Denmark" and "Vicksburg," and upon the shaft, encircled by a wreath "In memoriam." The monument is tastefully adorned by wreaths and flowers, and over all is a portrait of General Grant. In one of the large windows is a stock of army muskets beneath which is a portrait of Washington and Lincoln, side by side, other patriotic emblems, appropriate to the day are grouped in the window. In the other window is shown a display of colors. The whole making the handsomest and most appropriate display seen in this city on such an occasion.

Memorial Services will be held in Loppin's music hall this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock.

The Weather.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at seven o'clock this morning registered 50 degrees above zero. Cloudy, with indications of rain, southwest wind. At one p. m. the register was 60 degrees above zero. Cloudy with a westerly wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 53 and 67 and 63 degrees above zero.

WASHINGTON, May 30, 1 a. m.—The following are the indications for to-day:

Upper Lake Region—Fair weather, followed by local rains, light variable winds, stationary or lower temperature, and generally higher pressure.

Another Pioneer Gone.

Lewis Young, late of Newark, Rock county, Wis., departed this life on Sunday, May 20, 1883, after a long and tedious illness, aged 74 years. Mr. Young was a native of Mt. Desert, Maine, which place he left for the west nearly forty years ago, residing for a while at Rockton, Ill. He removed from there about 30 years ago, since which time he had been a resident of Newark, in this county. He was known as a man of integrity, a kind husband and father, and a generous and sympathetic friend and neighbor. The funeral was very largely attended on Tuesday, May 22, Rev. G. W. Lawrence, by special request conducting the service.

Off For Whitewater.

The rain which commenced falling shortly after seven o'clock this morning, caused many of the militiamen and citizens to abandon their visit to Whitewater to participate in the memorial services in that place.

At 3:15 o'clock the Bower City band left their rooms on Main street, seventeen men in uniform, for the St. Paul depot, discoursing sweet music as they marched through the streets in the rain. They were followed by the Janesville Guards, under command of First Lieutenant C. F. Glass, twenty men; and the Bower City Rifles, under command of First Lieutenant John Andrews, nineteen men. Members of both companies joined them at the depot, as also did a large number of citizens.

At the depot the party met the Monroe Guards, of Monroe, and the Beloit Guards, of Beloit.

IN MEMORIAM.

The Procession Formed and Moves to Oak Hill.

A Heavy Rain Storm Compels a Postponement of the Ceremony at the Cemetery.

The 30th day of May 1883, was ushered in here in Janesville by very unfavorable prospects for a successful and pleasant carrying out of the programme for the memorial services. Shortly after seven o'clock in the morning a rain set in which continued until twelve o'clock. During the forenoon, many citizens expressed the opinion that all public observance of the day would be abandoned. The committee postponed the forming of the procession until three o'clock. At noon the rain ceased to fall, and the clouds partially cleared away, which tended to put new life into those who had special duties to perform in connection with the memorial services, and notwithstanding the muddy streets, the procession was formed on South Main street at three o'clock, in the following order, under command of Chief Marshal Dr. J. B. Whiting, assisted by Charles Atwood and A. M. Valentine:

Chief of Police.

Sack Company No. 1.

Janesville Catholic Concert Band.

First Department.

Civil Societies on Foot.

Veteran Soldiers and Marines on Foot.

W. H. Sargent Post No. 39, G. A. R., Headed by Drum Corps.

Disabled Veterans in Carriages.

Troup of Eight Young Ladies on Horse-back.

Officers of the Day in Carriages.

Common Council in Carriages.

Singers and Decorators in Carriages.

Citizens in Carriages.

The line of march was up Main street to Milwaukee; up Milwaukee to Jackson; and thence direct to the cemetery.

The procession reached the cemetery at 3:45, and the exercises began by introductory remarks by the President of the day, Dr. Henry Palmer. The Rev. Mr. Davies offered prayer. Immediately after music by the band and the singing of Keller's American Hymn, the rain began to fall in torrents, which made it impossible to carry out the remainder of the programme. Dr. Palmer then announced that all further proceedings would be postponed until eight o'clock this evening, when the memorial exercises would be concluded at Loppin's hall. At the time of going to press it was the intention of the Grand Army to decorate the graves, should the storm cease.

INCREDULITY exists, but nobody has been heard to deny the wholesomeness and purifying effects of GREEN'S STOMACH SOAP.

Emerald Grove.

Rev. W. J. Olstead attended the district convention held at Geneva last week. This week he expects to attend a missionary meeting at Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas, of Lake Mills, Wis., have been visiting their relatives Dr. and Mrs. Seebor.

Mr. McGregor is teaching in a school house near Wm. Gardner's and not at the Grove as the types made us say last week.

We notice that Paul Thomas, of La Prairie, is putting out extensive improvements and additions to his house as virtually to make it a new residence. It will be handsome and commodious when done. Jenson & Son, of Janesville are the builders.

Robert Lamb is putting up what will be one of the handsomest houses on Rock Prairie. D. A. Cummings is the builder.

The storm of last Friday proved to be a hail storm and a severe one in some localities. East and south of the Grove hail fell four inches deep in some places. Window lights were broken and some damage was sustained from the wind.

Mr. Russell Cheney has returned from the Milwaukee convention and is well pleased with what he saw heard and learned.

The school exhibition came off Tuesday of last week and there should have been a very well attended. Those that were not well were the admission fee. The exercises consisted of declamations, dialogues, etc., interspersed with music. The old woman who had so many children, etc., was shown up in her right light and we shall realize the old ladies' difficulties in raising a family in the future. The doctor and sick child" was very laughable and did the little girls credit. Several selections from the Misses Millington, Goodrich and Winkly were well rendered and highly appreciated. The programme which was full and varied concluded with a tableau of "Faith Hope and Charity."

Hastings has a full line of ladies' walking shoes. Bear this in mind.

Strayed or stolen—A large sorrel horse, to identify the beast see if you can hang your hat on his hips. Anyone furnishing information of its whereabouts will be liberally rewarded by calling on E. Heller, who is proprietor of the animal.

Heller is nearly insane over the loss and well he may be, the horse being a recent purchase and its value is estimated at $13,000.

Peter Delamater met with quite an accident last week. In coming from Clinton his horses ran away, throwing him from the wagon and injuring him quite seriously.

Abbe Davis, John Davis' son, also had a mishap. In jumping over a fence while at play he turned his foot breaking the ankle bone. Dr. Seebor attended surgically and the patient is now on the road to recovery.

We noticed two plug hats in town last night. The Grove is growing—in tone.

RELIGIOUS AND EDUCATIONAL.

A church is being erected by the Baptists in Salt Lake City.

A new in Grace Church, New York, was sold at auction the other day for $2,300.

At a Methodist Conference held at Deloit, Kan., the members refused to admit or ordain any candidate to the Conference who uses tobacco, and requested the Bishop not to appoint any preacher as presiding elder who is in the habit of using the weed. The Bishop heartily indorsed the wishes of the Conference. —Chicago Tribune.

The Tablet, of London, publishes an article showing the growth of Catholicism among English-speaking nations. In Great Britain, since 1840, the churches have increased from 522 to 1,461; the laity, from 539,500 to 1,384,000. In the United States, in the same period, the churches have advanced from 324 to 5,009, the laity, from 665,000 to 6,143,000.

The Virginia State Board of Education has accepted the Griffin Farm, near Petersburg, as the site for the Colored and Collegiate Institute, provided the City Council of Petersburg gives $5,000. The college building will be erected near the spot where the menial "crater" fight occurred during the war. The amount appropriated by the Legislature for the establishment of the school is $100,000.

Mrs. Amanda Smith, the celebrated colored evangelist, is evangelizing among the colored people of Grand Bassa, Liberia. She writes that she has given many Bible readings, and that she finds among the women of Liberia a great disposition to study the Bible. She finds strong drink to be the great curse of Liberia, and she is laboring diligently in the cause of temperance reform. She will probably make her permanent work in Liberia. —Indianapolis Journal.

In Scotland last year there was expended on public schools the sum of £312,047, of which sum schools connected with the Church of Scotland received £28,266; the Free Church schools, £18,216; undenominational schools, £26,207; the Episcopal schools, £29,393; and the Roman Catholic schools, £25,642. A further point in these school statistics is that the total estimated population of school age is 1,169,943, of whom 636,660 are on the books of elementary day schools; but, by excluding children under five—the age at which education is compulsory—the number would be reduced by
